

Enriching Experiences Bring the Destinations Alive

FORT LAUDERDALE, FLORIDA – Residents of The World, the largest privately owned residential yacht on Earth, are treated to unique and enriching experiences that bring alive the destinations on the Ship's global journey. Through an intriguing and carefully crafted program of activities, lectures, workshops, entertainment and special events, The World tempts the 'explorer' mindset of Residents who have chosen to discover the cultural and geographic treasures of the world together with the families who call this distinctive community-at-sea 'home.'

Nobel Laureates, Visiting Experts, Breakfast Forums and Workshops Offers Interactive Immersion

Founded on Residents' and Guests' thirst for knowledge and inquisitive nature, onboard lectures (ideal for days at sea) are held to educate individuals and discuss topics pertinent to the countries and cities visited. Professional and experienced speakers, often locally based, talk on a variety of topics including arts and culture, history, finance, economy, world affairs and politics, food and wine, photography, health and wellness, science, space, and more. Lecturer-hosted outings held ashore provide interactive experiences that further Residents' immersion into the topic.

The World's Nobel Laureate Lecture Series brings esteemed Nobel Prize Laureates to the Ship to lecture on topics in their respective fields such as medicine, economics and science. Program speakers have included Dr. Shuji Nakamura, recipient of the 2014 Nobel Prize in Physics for inventing the blue LED (light-emitting diode), Dr. Edvard Moser, a 2014 Nobel Prize winner in Physiology and Medicine who lectured on the brain's maps of space, and Dr. Brian K. Kobilka, a 2012 joint Nobel Prize winner in Chemistry who spoke on G Protein Coupled Receptors: The Body's Communication Network and Challenges in Drug Discovery.

Breakfast Forums are more informal round table conversations that offer an intimate and casual setting in which to discuss important issues with local experts and dignitaries. Areas of focus have included politics and government, the economic future, finance and business, and the arts.

Interactive workshops hosted by professionals are matched to Residents' particular interest areas in group or one-on-one sessions. Subjects include computers, photography, journaling, cooking, painting, wine education, dance and health and fitness.

Exploring Dynamic Cultures

To drive Residents' sense of cultural adventure there are shows featuring local dance groups, indigenous music and local activities that embody a destination's authenticity and allure. Whether it is salsa dancing in Puerto Rico, colorfully dressed Panamanian school children singing, classical Indian dance or authentic tango dancers performing en route to Buenos Aires, these onboard experiences open a window into the rich tapestry of traditions throughout the world.

For added enrichment at their own pace, Residents can watch films and documentaries (usually destination-themed) in the Colosseo theater and explore the collection of books, magazines, and DVDs in The Study. The selection of books, including biography, fiction, non-fiction, children's, travel guides, and destination-specific titles – continuously changes according to the Ship's itinerary.

Incredible Video on Demand and Broadcast TV

A daily TV program is produced on board which invites Residents & Guests to learn about the current port of call, visiting experts and activities planned for the day. Marina Day Pursuits
