This winter, Cookson Adventures is offering the opportunity to charter the iconic 126-metre explorer yacht, Octopus in Antarctica for the first time.

The adventure begins with a flight from Chile to King George Island, from where you will sail south and have the chance to visit penguin colonies, spend a night camping on ice in a bespoke camp, and possibly witness breaching humpback whales, leopard seals and albatross.

With 13 guest rooms, highlights include a basketball court, a 15-seat cinema, a vast spa, a glass-bottomed observation lounge, and a heated freshwater swimming pool with retractable glass floor that raises to deck level to provide an extended entertaining area. Price on application.
